Sheriff's Office wants residents to participate in survey

What do you think? The Pendleton County Sheriff's Office is doing its first ever public survey. Please go to their website www.sheriff.pendletoncounty.ky.gov or hit "Like" on Facebook and go to the survey link to ten (10) questions as they relate to the Sheriff's Office. They would appreciate your feedback on what you think or believe about your Sheriff's Office. The answers provided are confidential unless you wish to add your name and contact information in the comment block. Please take a few minutes, complete the survey and hit submit. As they are in their seventh year, they would like to see what suggestions, if any, could be helpful to them in the near future. Please respond by April 1, 2013.

April 15 is deadline for filing income taxes

New online program lets filers track status of refund

The Kentucky Department of Revenue reminds everyone that income taxes are due Monday, April 15, 2013. New this year is "Where's My Refund," an online resource that allows taxpayers to check the status of their 2012 individual income tax refund.

Taxpayers can log on to www.revenue.ky.gov and click on Where's My Refund to obtain the most current and up-to-date information about their 2012 refund. A primary social security number and the exact amount of the refund are needed to retrieve this information.

Filing electronically continues to grow in popularity with nearly 78 percent of individual filers taking advantage of e-filing with Department of Revenue for tax year 2011. For tax year 2012, already more than 921,000

Kentuckians have filed their individual income tax returns. Nearly 852,000 of those have been e-filed resulting in 93 percent of individual filers taking advantage of filing online.

The Department of Revenue typically processes electronic returns within 7 to 10 days, while the average time for a refund to be issued on filed paper returns is 4 to 6 weeks. E-filing is the fastest, safest and easiest way for individuals and tax preparers to file returns. Through e-filing, taxpayers can choose to have refunds deposited directly into their bank account or have payments debited if they owe.

Additionally, more than one million Kentucky taxpayers may be eligible to prepare and file their taxes electronically at no

Military send-off for John Moore

John Moore, son of Mike and Irma Moore, has enlisted in the military and will be leaving in April for basic training. Please consider this an invitation to all his friends and family to a farewell get-together from noon until late in the evening, Saturday, March 30 at his home at 97 Palestine Road. Food, drink and games will be available throughout the day. Please stop by at anytime you'd like that day and wish John well as he heads off to serve his country in the United States Navy.

Stay safe while traveling this Spring

Spring travel can offer a much-needed cure for cabin fever. Whether you're planning to head to the closest national park or sunny beach, or you're trekking around the globe, there's no question that technology has made traveling easier than ever before. What many travelers don't know, however, is that the technology they use in the vacation planning stages or on the trip itself can actually put them at risk for cybercrime or even identity theft. These days, keeping yourself protected means more than just wearing sunscreen.

Offers for free airline tickets on social media sites, phony ("phishing") emails about how to earn more frequent flyer mileage, or offers for discounted excursions are all ways cybercriminals try to lure you in so they can steal your personal information. One of the most used digital devices on vacation is the smartphone - you use it to take pictures, search for the best places to eat and to find your way around with GPS. But, if your phone goes missing, it can be a bigger headache than the security line at the airport.

Governor Beshear signs long awaited-graduation bill

Calling it "one of my most satisfying acts as governor," Gov. Steve Beshear signed into law the Graduation Bill (Senate Bill 97), which will keep Kentucky students enrolled in school until they turn 18. Beshear and first lady Jane Beshear joined educators and child advocates to fight for this bill's passage for the past five legislative sessions. A late-session compromise among legislators led to the approval of SB97, which allows school districts to opt in to the higher dropout age immediately. Once 55 percent of school districts adopt the policy, all remaining districts must then adopt the standard within four years.

"Finally, we have agreed to stop jeopardizing our students' futures by allowing them to leave school before they're even eligible for a driver's license. Now, we are holding them to 21st century expectations of education and training," Beshear said in a statement. "The days of dropping out of high school and expecting a dependable, well-paying job are long gone. This bill will not only keep students on track for a high school diploma, but it will ensure we have a better-trained, better-prepared workforce, which will pay off for our state for decades to come." "Allowing students to leave school at 16 is an antiquated practice that has hindered our citizens' progress for far too long," said Jane Beshear said. "School districts now have the tools to keep these students engaged and learning throughout high school, creating stronger, self-sufficient adults who will be responsible, contributing members of their communities." High school graduates provide both economic and social benefits to society. In addition to earning higher wages, research shows that high school graduates live longer, are less likely to be teen parents, and are more likely to raise healthier, better-educated children. Studies also show that high school graduates are less likely to commit crimes, rely on government health care or use other public services. If the high school dropouts of 2009 had graduated, Kentucky's economy would have an additional $4.2 billion in wages over those students' lifetimes, according to a news release from Beshear's office. "This bill is an economic win for Kentucky and an even bigger win for the students who otherwise may not have stayed in school," Education Commissioner Terry Holliday said in the news release. "I echo the Governor's appreciation for the General Assembly and others who supported this bill and thank him as well as the First Lady for their continued leadership on this issue." "Now, these students have a better chance to graduate from high school and be ready to succeed in postsecondary training, education and in life," said Kentucky Board of Education Chair, David Karem. "That's the Kentucky Board of Education's goal for all Kentucky students." Beshear thanked the legislators who sponsored the bill as well as those who supported the legislation for the past several years. "Regardless of political party, this topic was something we could all agree on," the governor said. "The bipartisan cooperation that led to passage of this bill is a testament to our legislators' commitment to Kentucky students and the Commonwealth's future."

“PRAYER”

Prayer is the most important concept in our spiritual relationship with the Creator.

Without communication not much meaning is present in that relationship.

If communication is missing in a marriage, a partnership, a friendship, or even a business the foundation is weak and the longevity is short.

I believe in prayer, but sometimes I just don't understand. Some religious leaders may say that prayer is simple, but I think it is very complicated. People pray out of need, out of joy, out of sorrow, out of relief. Many times these prayers are empty recitations of meaningless phrases.

When I was younger I would pray “now I lay me down to sleep...” and many times I would be asleep before I finished the prayer. I said this prayer because as a child, I had a fear of dying in my sleep.

At home as children we always had prayer before a meal. That practice still exists in my home today. One has to be careful that prayer does not just become a routine. Why, I was a big kid, in fact I was getting ready to get my driver's license, and was still saying, “God is great, God is good, and we thank him for our food....”

I hear politicians and leaders, in time of tragedy comment, “You are in our thoughts and prayers.” They make this gesture, but they never actually say a prayer.

I have heard stories of people about to crash in a plane, or a soldier in a fox hole praying most sincerely, but when the ordeal is over and they are safe, prayer never enters their life until the next dilemma. When everything is going well, we just forget to pray.

I have heard folks pray in restaurants or public places, which I think is good. The part I have trouble with is when they deliver a vocal and beautiful prayer in order to be heard and noticed. I can more agree with a bowed head and silent prayer.

Some folks do their daily devotions and prayer while sitting on the commode. I guess this practice is alright, but I wonder if we were talking to the president or some important person, if we would converse while doing our daily routine. We often treat the Master as if He were some alien in a make believe location.

I think it is frustration when we have a sick family member or friend, and deep down we know that they will never get well or live. One should learn to accept the oncoming result, continue to pray, but have faith enough to accept the Lord's will.

I guess the best example of how we approach prayer and accept its result is an old western story.

Back in the late 1800's there was a little town out west that had church on Sunday morning in the local saloon. This practice was not uncommon, because they did not have means to build a church.

It so occurred that there was a local group meeting for church and among them was an old prospector who had just come into town.

The preacher was about to deliver a very in-depth prayer when one of the “ladies of the night,” who had been sleeping in an upstairs room, stumbled to the balcony. She was still drunk from the night before and fell off the railing. She grabbed a light fixture and was hanging to avoid falling. She had on a dress, but she was void of any under garments.

The preacher nervously looked up and strongly directed, “That anyone who looketh at the woman would be struck blind!”

The old prospector placed his hand over one eye and uttered, “I think I will take a chance on one eye!”

"Believe you can and you're halfway there."

The wooden bowl and Cyrus Collins

The following came to my attention over the internet recently. I had seen it before, but as I reread this story, it grabbed my attention and hung on. The essentials of this anonymous story which I have edited slightly, follows:

A frail old man went to live with his son, daughter-in-law and four year old grandson, presumably after his wife died. The old man's hands trembled, his eyesight was blurred, and his steps faltered as he walked with a cane.

The family ate together at the table, but the grandfather's shaky hands and failing eyesight made feeding himself difficult. Peas rolled off his spoon onto the floor and when he grasped his glass, milked spilled onto the tablecloth.

The son and daughter-in-law became irritated with the mess. ‘We must do something about father,’ said the son. ‘I’ve had enough of his spilled milk, noisy eating, and food on the floor.’

So his son and his wife set a small table in the corner. There, Grandfather ate alone while the rest of them enjoyed dinner. Since Grandfather had broken a dish or two, his food was served in a wooden bowl.

When the family glanced in Grandfather's direction, sometimes they saw a tear in his eye as he tried to eat. Still, the only words the couple had for him were sharp admonitions to do better when he dropped a fork or spilled food.

The four year old grandson watched in silence.

One evening before supper, the father noticed his four year-old playing with wood scraps on the floor. He asked, ‘What are you making?’

The child responded, ‘Oh, I am making you and Mama a wooden bowl for you two to eat in when I grow up.’ And he returned to his make-believe construction.

The words struck like a knife to their souls. That evening the husband took Grandfather's hand and gently led him back to the family table.

For the remainder of his days Grandfather ate his meals at the family table and neither the son nor wife seemed to be bothered by the fork that was dropped, the milk that was spilled nor the table cloth that was soiled!

Probably the reason that I found this story to be particularly poignant has to do with my father and mother. For, Dad had Parkinson's disease for 27 years before his passing. And during the last several years he could do nothing for himself. Mother had to dress him, take him to the bathroom, turn him over in bed, and, of course, feed him.

The fingers on his hands were rigid and could not hold a fork. His tongue had thickened from the medicine prescribed by his Doctor, making the swallowing of food slow and tedious. Most of the time it would take twice as long to feed Dad as normally it would take for the rest of us to eat.

When he was being fed, much of the food would cascade from his mouth onto a large towel that Mother would spread like a bib down his front side. Not a pretty sight when one was eating at the same table as he. And, when we would have a family gathering and a meal at her house, I would hope that she would feed Dad before the remainder of the gathering got to the table.

No! No sir! Not today! Not an option! No wooden bowl for Cyrus Collins! He was placed at the head of the table, Mother by his side! And, we learned to cope. Strangely, perhaps not strangely, our two sons, his grandsons, did not seem to be bothered by their grandfather's eating!

P.S. Why do the Japanese reverence and respect their elderly and in our nation there are those who would like to put us in a wheelchair and push us over a cliff?

LEGISLATIVE PERSPECTIVE ON KENTUCKY GENERAL ASSEMBLY

By the time you read this, the General Assembly will likely have completed its work during this year's legislative session.

Although the calendar calls for these last two working days to be dedicated only to possible overrides of any vetoes from Gov. Beshear, the House and Senate are also expected to use this time to finalize work on several other bills. That includes financially stabilizing our public pension systems for state and local government employees and retirees; making it easier to vote for military personnel stationed outside of the country; and ensuring that farmers are ready if the federal government either grants a waiver to grow industrial hemp or legalizes it entirely. I was proud last week to represent the Kentucky House of Representatives on the Kentucky Hemp Commission at its regular meeting.

As we await what legislative action is taken on these issues, it is worth recognizing the many other bills now law. Some of the more high-profile ones are already well known. The General Assembly, for example, has increased transparency and accountability in our special districts, which oversee critical services provided by such organizations as libraries, volunteer fire departments and public utilities.

Another prominent new law puts Kentucky on a path to increase the high school dropout age from 16 to 18. There also was action to improve last year's “pill mill” legislation, which has already proven to be very effective at reducing prescription drug abuse. In addition, we strengthened our human trafficking laws so that it will be easier to find and then stop those criminals who take part in what is often called modern-day slavery.

Many other new laws may not have gotten as much public attention, but they are important nonetheless.

In education matters, we streamlined the law for those bright students who are able to graduate high school before the rest of their class. The Dept. of Education estimates there are more than 500 who do this every year.

Another new education law will give greater leeway to college students who were foster children or otherwise under state care. They currently have their college tuition costs covered, but until this year, they had a set timeframe to qualify for that benefit. Now, if they enlist in the military or become a member of a national service organization like the Peace Corps, they will have more time to go to college tuition-free. We want to make sure they are rewarded rather than penalized for taking time to serve their country.

In the area of law enforcement, we made it easier to take dangerous synthetic drugs off the shelf, and we also lengthened the ban that those convicted of meth-related charges face when they try to buy cold and allergy products containing pseudoephedrine. Those guilty of manufacturing meth will now have a lifetime ban, while those who were convicted of possessing meth will see their ban rise from five years to 10.

Elsewhere, we toughened penalties for those thieves who steal items worth tens of thousands of dollars or more, and we did the same to those convicted of manslaughter in cases involving the death of a law enforcement officer or firefighter while he or she was on duty.

For our children, we closed a loophole that some child pornographers had used. Before, they had to actually possess the material to be convicted, but now intentional viewing will count as well. There are some reasonable exceptions, such as for parents or other caregivers who might be investigating claims in this area.

Other new laws will do such things as:

- Improve the state's online “one-stop shopping” portal that businesses now use when interacting with state government. Once this law is phased in, businesses will only have one identifier with all state agencies.

- Make it easier for those just moving to Kentucky to get a concealed carry gun permit. There had been a six-month waiting period, but now there is none.

- Toughen the law for amusement park operators who may try to change the name of their business or dissolve it to avoid penalties. We want to make sure these people are properly punished.

For a short-year legislative session, I believe we were able to accomplish many positive things, and hopefully I will have even more to report in my next column.

I appreciate those who let me know their thoughts on our work. If you would like to do the same, no matter what time of year, you can always write to me at Room 332B, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601. My email address is Tom.McKee@lrc.ky.gov.

You can also leave a message for me or for any legislator at 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305. More information can be found on the General Assembly's website: www.lrc.ky.gov.

I hope to hear from you soon.

It's Spring: The sun says new season, despite lingering winter cold

By: Justin Grieser
At the equinox, all latitudes see about 12 hours of daylight and darkness as Earth rotates on its axis.
It still feels like winter in many parts of the country, but Earth's orbit says otherwise.
At 7:02 a.m. last Wednesday, March 20, 2013, astronomical winter ended as spring officially began in Earth's northern hemisphere.
Astronomically, the spring equinox marks the moment at which Earth's axis tilts neither away from nor toward the sun, resulting in nearly equal periods of daylight and darkness across the globe. An observer on Earth's equator will see the sun at zenith before its direct rays shift northward toward the Tropic of Cancer over the next three months.
Sun observers and astronomers may think of the spring equinox as an astronomical transit point when the Earth-sun relationship stands in perfect balance. This is true when we consider that all locations on Earth experience slightly over 12 hours of daylight, as well as the position of sunrise and sunset with respect to the horizon.
The most "equal" aspect of the equinox is the location of sunrise and sunset. Except at the north and south poles, all latitudes on Earth see the sun rise at due east and set at due west on the March equinox. So whether you live in Miami, northern Alaska, or anywhere in the southern hemisphere, the sun will rise and set within 90 degrees of due north on a compass.
Change in daylight and average temperatures in U.S. cities on the vernal equinox. Cities are arranged by latitude.
Another unifying trait of the March equinox is that it marks the time of year when daylight most rapidly increases in the northern hemisphere (or decreases for those south of the equator).
While the days grow longer more quickly at northern latitudes, all northern hemisphere locations see their maximum daily increase in sunlight right around the spring equinox.

Apart from the location of sunrise and sunset, however, most other aspects of the equinox are not the same. In fact, even the equal daylight concept is only partly true. Due to atmospheric refraction, most locations see the sun above the horizon for about 12 hours and 10 minutes on the spring equinox. The exact date of 12 hours from sunrise to sunset occurs anywhere from March 12-18 and depends largely on latitude.
More important, while the March equinox brings roughly equal hours of daylight to the globe, the intensity of the sun's rays will never be the same at all latitudes. In other words, equal daylight does not imply equal incoming solar radiation.
But whether or not it feels like spring, the equinox is a reminder that the sun's declination – or height with respect to the horizon – is increasing at its fastest pace of the year. For humans, this means the sun's ultraviolet rays are now significantly more intense than they were in midwinter. As we move into April the intensity of the sun's rays will continually increase, so remember to keep sunscreen handy if you're out gardening on a warm spring day.
Most of the lower 48 states now see at least moderate UV levels on a clear day. In all but the northernmost states, the UV index reaches high intensity when skies are clear at local noon (around 1 p.m. on daylight saving time).
Unlike a year ago, when record March warmth accompanied the astronomical start of spring, temperatures in 2013 remain below average for much of the central and eastern U.S. Yet no matter what the weather outside, the spring equinox is a reminder that incoming sunlight is significantly stronger as the Earth's northern hemisphere begins to tilt toward the sun. Even as winter overstays its welcome for some, we now see more daylight than darkness. That means spring can't be far behind.

Pendleton County "Elementary Career Day" a hit with students

Southern Elementary hosted Pendleton County "Elementary Career Day" for all fifth grade students in the county during the morning hours of Friday, March 15. Many speakers from various occupations were on hand to make presentations and describe their jobs and everyday duties in detail to the students in attendance.

Prior to the day of the event, students chose five occupations that they thought were interesting and would like to learn more about. When they entered the gymnasium on "Career Day" they were assigned to a designated station based on their selections. Students spent twenty minutes with a representative from each line of work they had chosen and then rotated to the next one on their list.

"We are required to have college and career readiness activities for the students and we thought this would be a fun way to do it," said Sherry Wirth, Southern Elementary guidance counselor. "This is our first year of doing this and the kids really seem to be enjoying the experience."

Students enjoyed trying out fire safety equipment and listening to Mark Hart explain the importance of firefighters. Photo by J. Vaughn.

Wirth and Jodi Gerhardstein, Northern Elementary guidance counselor, coordinated the event making it a joint effort between the two schools to hold "Elementary Career Day."

Pendleton County Schools would like to thank the following people for donating their time and coming out to be a part of "Elementary School Day":

Kentucky State Trooper David Jones had a presentation for students interested in working in the field of law enforcement. Photo by Jackie Vaughn.

Official Notice

Owen Electric Cooperative, with its principal office at Owenton, Kentucky and with its address at 8205 Highway 127 North, Owenton, Kentucky 40359, has filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission in Case No. 2012-00448 an application to adjust its retail rates and charges. The need for this adjustment is due to an increase in Owen Electric's expenses in the areas of wholesale power costs, interest, depreciation, and general operating expenses.

Owen Electric is also proposing a $0.001 per kWh increase to its Fuel Adjustment Clause to recover fuel costs it has paid to its wholesale power supplier but not collected through its fuel clause. This increase will last for approximately one year until all of these identified fuel costs are recovered.

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Owen Electric Cooperative but the Kentucky Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from these proposed rates contained in this notice.

Any corporation, association, or person may within thirty (30) days after the initial publication or mailing of notice of the proposed rate changes, submit a written request to intervene to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602 that establishes the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party, and states that intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown.

Written comments regarding the proposed rates may be submitted to the Public Service Commission by mail or through the Public Service Commission's Web site at <http://psc.ky.gov/>.

Any person may examine the rate application and any other documents the utility has filed with the Public Service Commission at the offices of Owen Electric Cooperative listed below and on the utility's Web site at www.owenelectric.com.

RELIGION

BUTLER BAPTIST

Brother Daryl's message was from Colossians 3:12-14 titled "The Perfect Church." The church is the chosen people of God. We are told to show mercy and compassion for others. We are to show kindness to others no matter what the circumstances. Humility is not being proud and making me look good. It is looking for ways how I can serve Jesus. Meekness is exercising self control and being considerate. It is not being weak. Patience is being steadfast no matter what attacks you, keeping your focus on Jesus. Love is what binds everything together. This is a sacrificial love towards each other. The only perfect person was Jesus. He forgave us and we are to forgive each other. The perfect church is a place where everyone is loved.

BUTLER METHODIST

It is Holy Week so we would like to invite you to attend the special services that will be held here at Butler United Methodist Church this week. There will be a Maundy Thursday service at 7 p.m. on Thursday; there will be a Tenebra service at 7 on Good Friday. We will be celebrating the Risen Saviour at 11 a.m. on Easter Sunday with Sunrise service being held at Butler Christian Church at 7 a.m. Easter Sunday morning. Please come and celebrate Holy Week with us.

Thanks to all who baked items for the Relay for Life bake sale on Sunday, yummy is the only way to describe those desserts that filled the fellowship hall. Congrats to our ham raffle winner, also held for the Relay team.

Several members went to see the Dead Sea scrolls exhibit at the Museum Center on Saturday.

Please pray for Pam Mayes sister, Lila (now back at the Barrington after some heart problems), Bryant Brown, Matthew Mullikin, Paul Reis, Ron Hitch (praise the Lord the biopsy was negative), Clay and Hazel Clifford, Frank's co-worker, Mark's co-worker and wife, Jill Chiles and others we don't know about yet. Thank the Lord for all the wonderful praises we had Sunday. So good to have pastor David back with us again from his mission trip to Mississippi. God bless.

CEMETERY CHAPEL CHRISTIAN

An Easter egg hunt will be held at Cemetery Chapel Christian Church at 2 p.m. on March 3. Besides the egg hunt, there will be crafts, a Bible lesson and snacks. Plan to come and join the fun.

If you are looking for a church home we would love to have you as part of our church family. Sunday school is at 9 a.m., worship service at 10 a.m., and Bible study at 7 p.m. on Wednesday.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

We would like for you to come not only for Easter but come and join our "Whosoever Club" here at the Chapel. There are no membership fees and we accept whosoever wants to be a part of this club. The benefits of joining this club are outstanding. You will receive peace, happiness, joy, contentment, blessings, friendship, someone to love and accept you; but most of all you will receive forgiveness for all of your sins and Jesus Christ will become your Savior and the giver of the afore mentioned benefits.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Happy Easter from the Falmouth Baptist Church. We invite you to join us Sunday as we celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ. He suffered, died and rose again so that we may have eternal life in heaven. All you have to do is accept Him as your Lord and Savior, believe that He died and rose again and confess you are a sinner and ask for forgiveness.

We began our morning worship service with the believer's baptism of Sam Martini. Sam is our new brother in Christ and as fellow believers we need to pray for him.

Bro. Cohen's message was taken from the 12th chapter of John. Jesus' message to the disciples then is just as pertinent to us today as it was then. As verse 36 says "Put your trust in the light while you have it, so that you may become sons of light."

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Rick's message "Jesus and Zacchaeus" was from Luke 19:1-10. Jesus knew Zacchaeus was a sinner, yet He went to his house. The good news Zacchaeus repented from his sins and became a child of God. Are you ready to repent? Read your Bible this week and see how easy it is to become a child of God.

Our special music was by Brother Rick, and that is always a blessing.

There are so many people that need your prayers, those in nursing homes, hospitals, our military and the lost.

If you are looking for a church home, come join us for Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and church service at 10:45 a.m. May God bless!

FALMOUTH METHODIST

Here we are in the midst of Holy Week; a very holy time if your eyes and ears are open to it. As we journey closer to the glorious celebration of Easter, we must first pause in the darkness of Good Friday to be able to have a deeper and richer appreciation for the day of resurrection. We would like to invite you to the Pendleton County Cooperative of Churches Community Good Friday service at 1 p.m., March 29 at the Falmouth Christian Church. Then join us at the Falmouth United Methodist Church at 10:45 a.m. on Sunday, March 31 for a resurrection celebration; preceded by an Easter breakfast at 9:30 a.m.

There is great joy in proclaiming, "He is risen!" So won't you join us in this joyous celebration?

FAIRVIEW BAPTIST

Fairview Baptist Church in Kelat will be having a two part event for Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday. It will be a shadow play depicting the last days of Christ, including his death and resurrection. This is an exciting and different concept that can bring a deeper understanding and connection to our Lord and Savior. We will have an 8 a.m. sunrise service followed by a breakfast prior to our usual services on Easter Sunday. The shadow plays will be in lieu of our morning worship services at 11 a.m. on March 24, Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday. There will be an Easter egg hunt right after the morning service on Easter Sunday. Come out and join us for the fun, festivities and fellowship in this season of salvation!

HARVEST

Bro. Damian's message was taken from scripture text of Galatians 5:16-25, "Ride of a lifetime." Don't let anything or anyone else determine your values and standards in any area of your life. You must keep in step with God's leading. We must submit every aspect of our lives to God - emotional, physical, social, intellectual and vocational.

Good Friday services will be at 7 p.m. led by Bro. Donnie Spencer. Easter sunrise service will begin at 8 a.m. followed by a continental breakfast and egg hunt then Bible study at 9:30 a.m. and worship service at 10:30 a.m. led by Bro. Dale. We invite you to worship with us and share in the celebration of risen Savior.

Prayer concerns: Mickey and Rickey Covey, Karen Hyden, Denise Dean, Bobby Mitchell, Bob Lea and Mary Lou Orr.

Come be our guest at 111 E. Shelby Street. Blessings for a wonderful week.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

Holy Week is upon us when we remember the last week of Jesus' earthly ministry before He was killed on the cross. In the triumphal entry of Palm Sunday, the people celebrated Jesus coming to Jerusalem. But many of those same people would be in those same streets in just a few days shouting, "Crucify Him!" If we want to understand the life of Jesus, we must also understand the death of Jesus. This dark event revealed the miraculous and transformational healing of Easter morning. As Christians we celebrate the defeat of death through the love of God and the faithfulness of Jesus Christ. Take time to pull out your Bibles this week and revisit Jesus' last week in

"The Lord is near to all who call upon Him to all who call upon Him in truth."
~ Psalms 145:14

Jerusalem (Matt 21-28, Mark 11-16, Luke 19-24, and John 12-20). We can't go from triumphant entry on Palm Sunday to the triumphant defeat at the tomb next Sunday, without going through the cross first.

Come visit us at Morgan, all our welcome at the Lord's table. Sunday school at 10 a.m. and worship at 11 a.m.

MT. CARMEL

If you would like to donate cash or candy for the Easter egg hunt please see Ray and Marlene.

Prayer Warriors, there is a new schedule for you to sign-up on. We appreciate your commitment, you're making a difference.

Upcoming events include: Our annual Easter egg hunt at 11 a.m. Saturday, March 30 and we will have Sunrise service at 8 a.m. on Easter Sunday, March 31 with breakfast to follow in the fellowship hall. The evening services will be cancelled to give everyone more time with their family.

This year's Vacation Bible School will be June 23-28. If you would like to help, there is a sign-up sheet on the platform. We are looking for leaders and helpers. If you have any questions, please check with Greg Courtney.

MT. MORIAH

We were surprised with a 4 to 6 inch snowfall on Sunday, March 7! The roads remained clear but the heavy snow still caused many church members to be unable to attend. Our attendance was small but a warm and loving spirit filled our sanctuary.

Steve Ammerman was our guest speaker. We thank him very much for helping us in our time of need. Steve brought us a message on patience. Patience is something we all lack. We get in a hurry instead of waiting for God's help.

We are looking forward to Easter. It is a time when all things were made new by the resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Our speaker for Easter Sunday will be Gene Lovelace. Gene is planning a beautiful service with many members of the congregation taking part.

We rejoice that Cynthia Bentle Lovelace and Bill Gary had successful surgeries last week. Please pray for Jeff Crouch that he will get strength in his legs and be able to return to work soon.

Pray for peace that the time will come when "none shall be afraid." "For nothing is impossible with God" (Luke 1:37). Have a joyful week.

NEW HOPE

Many in our society travel to see the burial places of great men and women of history. Some go to pay their respects. Others go to learn more about that individual. There is one person that changed the world whose grave we cannot visit. Jesus Christ was placed in a tomb after His death on the cross, but His body is not there today. He rose from the grave. At Easter, we celebrate the fact that Jesus conquered death. He is not dead; He is alive. Easter is not the remembrance of a death, it is a remembrance of one who died and was resurrected to bring us forgiveness of sins and the gift of eternal life. Join us as we celebrate our risen Savior.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and fellowship. Sunday school starts at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is at 7 p.m. on Thursdays.

Upcoming opportunities: There will be an Easter sunrise service and breakfast at 8:30 a.m. on March 31; the CrossFire Crew will have a lock-in at 7:30 p.m.,

April 5; there will be a deacons meeting at 5:30 p.m. on April 7 and a WMU meeting at 6 p.m.; and we will have a Gideon speaker during morning service on April 14.

What a weekend we had March 16 and 17. Rain, sun and snow. As if that wasn't enough we had an Easter party for the younger kids and a wonderful baptismal service Sunday afternoon. So it wasn't hard to find the Lord at work this weekend. He was very busy. What a huge blessing.

"And He said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

The resurrection is the very key to the Kingdom that unlocks your chains and sets you free from fear.

The Easter season makes us remember the true reason to believe.

The Jake's Boys concert was outstanding. Next time we have them, you must come.

Good Friday service will be at 6:30 p.m. with our choir presenting their cantata. Sunrise service will be at 6:30 a.m. with the Neave folk here at Oakland. Worship services are 8:30 a.m. and 10:35 a.m. Evening worship will be dismissed.

Camp Northward wishes to employ a nurse (or a nursing student of at least two years) for the camp season, June-August. Contact camp at 859-654-3865.

Prayer concerns include Juanita King, Bob Bertram, Larry Aulick, Eudell Hall, Larry Wright, Phyllis Wolfe, Zelma King, Ron and Brenda Hitch, Patty Wolfe, Lily McCann, Bryant Brown, Marge Logan, shut-ins, armed forces, and our leaders. Our sympathy to the loved ones of Tommy Delaney.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning services at 11 a.m. and evening Bible study at 6 p.m. www.crittendenbaptistassociation.net

The snow was beautiful on Sunday morning but it kept a few members at home. For those who braved the elements, Bro. Rick's message was from Matthew 11:28 and 29, "Lift up the saints." We want our church to grow and have our spiritual needs met. It's up to us to spread the Word and lift each other up with good fellowship. Christ has given each of us special abilities. We should lovingly follow the truth at all times. Take time to be holy, speak often with the Lord and feed on His word!

Kyla Colemire presented our Missionary Moments.

Happy birthday this past week to Paul Bowen.

Everyone is welcome to our sunrise service starting at 9 a.m. with breakfast to follow on Easter morning. After breakfast, an Easter egg hunt for the children is planned. Morning services will be at 11 a.m. Our Sunday evening Bible study is in Genesis.

Plans are underway for VBS, July 14-19 with the theme of Colossal Coaster World...facing fear and trusting God. Dare to change, speak up, believe, stand strong and trust!

SHORT CREEK

Revival begins this Sunday, March 24-27 with Richard Collins.

The Happy Travelers will be in concert Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Other special music for the week include: Bro. Shane and Cathy, Ron Livingood, Timmy Cummings and the Supper Table Gang, and Matt Ross. Everyone is welcome.

Bible study at 7 p.m., Wednesday night, study will be in Romans.

Easter egg hunt will be at 2 p.m., Saturday March 30. Sunrise service at 7 a.m. on Easter Sunday and the choir will present our Easter cantata at the 11 a.m. service. Please join us.

SOUTHSIDE CHRISTIAN

We opened services with the hymn, "We have come into His house" on March 17. Brother Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "St. Patrick's Day of 2013," from Colossians 4:2-6. Brother Clay talked about three different ways of sharing your faith, just like the three leaves of a shamrock. The memory verse for the week is from Colossians 4:5: "Be wise in the way you act toward outsiders; make the most of every opportunity."

Please be in prayer for all, in one way or another.

Come on Wednesday for the Bible study at 7 p.m. We are doing a new series on "Prayer."

Southside will be having Good Friday service at 7:30 p.m. on March 29, 2013 and sunrise service at 7:30 a.m. on March 31. All are invited to attend.

Come and worship with us this Sunday at 9 a.m. for Sunday school and 10 a.m. worship service.

TRINITY

Rise and shine to give God the glory. Easter sunrise service will be at Trinity this year! We welcome First Baptist and Falmouth Baptist as we unite to celebrate our risen Savior and Lord. Easter morning services begin at 7 a.m. with worship through song and word with a fellowship breakfast immediately following the services. Make sure you clear your schedule. You won't want to miss Trinity's youth at 7 p.m. on Good Friday, March 29. Trinity's choir will preach through song Easter morning worship service, as they present "Oh what a Savior."

Trinity has restarted the food share ministry. If you know someone in need of food, then invite them to Trinity from 4-5 p.m. on every second and fourth Thursday to get spiritual food with a devotion before we pass out the plentiful harvest the Lord has supplied us with to share his compassion with our community.

TURNER RIDGE

There wasn't a lot of "green" spotted as snow blanketed the area on Sunday, March 17, but the crowd was still good that met to worship at Turner Ridge.

Jim Tomlinson brought special music and Kevin Trent read scripture from Galatians 5:24-25. Bro. Dale's message, "Deny self, follow Jesus," taught us to focus on God.

"If anyone desires to come after me let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Matthew 16:24.

Join us to celebrate Easter. Our sunrise service will begin at 7 a.m., March 31 with Sunday school at 10 a.m. and morning worship at 11 a.m.

"...but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Romans 6:23.

Prophetic Voices

"Therefore, because you

impose heavy rent on the poor and exact a tribute of grain from them, though you have built houses of well-hewn stone, yet you will not live in them; you have planted pleasant vineyards, yet you will not drink their wine." (Amos 5:11)

Last fall my colleague and friend, David Hester, former dean of Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, preached a moving and eloquent "pre-election" sermon about an issue he felt was getting very little attention from either of our two major political parties: the poor. David reminded us that in previous years and in many past elections, such was not the case. There were vigorous debates among major candidates of the two parties in those elections about how best to address the needs of the poor. But in the election that was bringing Americans to the polls last November, neither party seemed willing to address the needs of the neediest. The reasons were many. And I am relatively sure that political strategists would have had strong arguments about why both parties were best served by avoiding the topic. But, as David reminded us, Christians have certain obligations as adherents to a faith that still listens to the voices of prophets like Amos, Hosea and Micah, Mary the Mother of Jesus, St. Luke, and St. James.

A few weeks ago my thoughts returned again to David Hester's sermon as I read the most recent issue of the journal, Foreign Affairs, in which Jerry Z. Muller wrote the lead article on "Capitalism and Inequality" (Foreign Affairs, March/April, 2013; pp. 30-51). Dr. Muller teaches history at the Catholic University of America. In his essay, he explains that while capitalism has done great things throughout the world, nevertheless "inequality is an inevitable product of capitalist activity, and expanding equality of opportunity only increases it." Furthermore, the increase of inequality, he maintains, "is a problem for everybody, not just those who are doing poorly or those who are ideologically committed to egalitarianism - because if left unaddressed, rising inequality and economic insecurity can erode social order and generate a populist backlash against the capitalist system at large."

David Hester provided a persuasive moral argument for persons of faith to address poverty. Muller provides a convincing pragmatic argument to do the same. And both are asking us to think systemically. That is, both argue for us to think and act at the deepest levels of the structures of society, rather than only to respond to poverty at a personal, individualistic, and ad hoc level.

Go Green for Spring Cleaning
With warmer temperatures on the way, now is a good time to take inventory and make plans to go green for your annual spring cleaning. One way to do this is to use homemade or purchased green household cleaning products.

Green cleaning products are safer for humans and provide added benefits for the environment. According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, air in our homes typically is more polluted than outside air, with one of the largest pollutants being household cleaners. The use of green cleaning products can improve residential air quality.

These products are safe to use, non-toxic and clean just as well as products that contain hazardous chemicals. You can find green cleaning products for everything from glass to laundry. Many products are biodegradable for easy disposal and are packaged in recycled containers.

In most cases, you can determine if a product is green by reading its label. Look at the list of ingredients to see if the product contains any potentially harmful chemicals such as chlorine or peroxide-based bleach, ammonia, turpentine and lye. If a product claims to "kill germs" or "disinfect", look for its EPA registration number on the label.

Some of the best green cleaning products are already available in your kitchen cupboard. Common household items, such as white vinegar, baking soda and lemon juice, can be used to clean glass and other surfaces and to remove odors.

- Glass Cleaner: Mix ¼ cup ammonia, two tablespoons white vinegar and one cup of water.

- Air Freshener: Place an open box of baking soda in the refrigerator and freezer or sprinkle into garbage cans.

Remember to recycle as you clean out closets and drawers. Donate discarded toys, books and clothing to a local church group or charity. Make a rag bag to store old linens and torn clothing to use for cleaning.

For more information about going green, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

LINDIE HUFFMAN, AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES

Some pest management tips for home vegetable gardens

Now is a good time to start thinking about pest control for your home vegetable garden.

You can control pest problems, and perhaps prevent future difficulties, in your garden by doing some advance planning and following a few simple Integrated Pest Management practices. IPM promotes minimal pesticide use and emphasizes use of all available pest control methods including cultural, mechanical and biological practices to prevent pest problems. Examples of the IPM approach include using plants with natural disease tolerance or resistance, using mulch to control weeds or row covers to prevent insect damage and using naturally occurring organisms such as lady beetles or praying mantis.

Sanitation is another good IPM practice. Keep your garden well-groomed during active growth. Once you spot diseased plant material, remove it immediately to keep diseases from spreading. Also, promptly remove vegetable plants when they cease to be productive. Although you should clear out unproductive vegetable plants from the garden area, you can add this plant material to a compost pile. Be sure to eliminate dead vegetable plants in late fall because these can serve as overwintering sites for insects and disease organisms in your garden.

Before you buy seeds, plants or fertilizer, start your garden off right by answering these questions.

Have you taken a soil sample to determine if soil fertility and acidity/alkalinity will meet plant nutrient requirements?

Soil test results will tell you how much fertilizer is required to provide plants with needed nutrients, while preventing excessive use that contributes to groundwater, stream and lake pollution. Plants that are stressed or weak from insufficient nutrients or a pH that's too low or too high are more susceptible to disease and can't readily tolerate insect damage. So, to give your plants a healthy start; soil test and apply the fertilizer and other amendments according to the recommendations.

Do you plant your garden crops in the same spot year after year?

Crop rotation can help prevent insect and disease build-ups. For example, potatoes, eggplant, tomatoes and peppers are subject to the same insect and disease problems. Therefore, none of these crops should be planted in the same location more than every three consecutive years. After three years, switch to a different crop like beans or corn. If you have limited garden space, plant some vegetable plants in containers such as large pots or half whisky barrels as a form of crop rotation.

Make a diagram of your garden each year to avoid planting the same or closely related crops in exactly the same spot too frequently.

How do you select a vegetable plant variety?

Whether you are planting corn or tomatoes, check to see that the variety you are planting has some disease resistance or tolerance. For example, select tomato varieties labeled VFN, as they're resistant to Verticillium Wilt, Fusarium and root-knot nematodes.

Do you buy the cheapest transplants?

When it comes to transplants, the best buys are the healthy ones. A healthy transplant was seeded at the right time, grown at the proper temperature, and received adequate light and moisture. It will have a compact growth structure with very small distances between leaves. The leaves will be dark green, large and upright with no tendency to droop. Stems will be pencil thick and rigid.

Avoid transplants that are beginning to produce flowers or fruit. It might seem that buying a plant with blooms or fruit will give you a head start in the garden. However, plants trying to produce fruit or flowers are slow to develop the good root systems needed to support later fruit production. Never buy plants that have insects present or are showing disease symptoms.

Do you plan to use mulch in your garden?

Mulch helps prevent weeds that will decrease your garden's production by competing with the vegetable plants for water, nutrients and sunlight. In addition, some weeds harbor diseases and insects that attack vegetable plants. Mulch also helps conserve soil moisture.

Several types of commercial mulch are available, or you can use newspapers for the mulch. Start with five to eight layers, adding more layers as the newspapers decompose to prevent weed growth throughout the growing season. Be sure to use only newspapers printed with soy-based ink and avoid using the glossy inserts.

If you can't determine what is causing a pest problem in your established garden, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service. We can help you discover what's causing the problem, or send the plant or pest to one of the University of Kentucky Plant Disease Diagnostic Labs for identification.

For more information, request our publication, Home Vegetable Gardening in Kentucky, (ID-128).

Remember, planning ahead and using IPM practices will help prevent pest problems in your home vegetable garden.

SHELLEY MEYER, 4-H/YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

Sewing teaches practical skills

Sewing is a skill that complements the total development of the individual. It teaches concrete, measurable skills and provides an incremental learning curve, in which each success allows for the next project to be attempted. 4-H offers several ways to get involved in sewing.

The Fashion Revue is an educational experience for senior 4-Hers designed to promote skills in the construction, selection and coordination of clothing and related items. The Fashion Revue also provides a look into the business world of clothing.

Youth interested in needle-and-thread crafts should consider the benefits of sewing (and related endeavors):

- Financial decision-making and math skills. New or quality used machines can be had for relatively modest sums, making sewing a good hobby to enter with a low monetary commitment. Additionally, math skills are essential to sewing. Fabric must be chosen to suit the project, pattern, and budget.

And actually following the pattern uses and tests math skills.

- Patience and acceptance. Because sewing is like a puzzle, it teaches patience. A sewer must think things through, solving the puzzle in the head first before cutting and joining seams. Further, sewing can manage frustration by teaching the skill of being able to live with mistakes. It is a great way to learn to solve problems.

- Physical dexterity and manual skills. Mechanical skills are needed to sew and to keep a machine running at top condition. Threading bobbins, changing needles and oiling the machine are regular tasks that use these discrete skills, involving hand to eye coordination and an understanding of mechanics.

- Critical reading skills. Reading a pattern and following the directions are skills that can be advantageous in other aspects of daily life. Visual acuity and interpretive reading is essential in sewing, since the brain must reconcile the pattern's written and visual instructions with the finished item. Daily skills, such as reading maps and instructive manuals, are made easier by an ability to comprehend and follow written instructions and diagrams.

- Creativity. While sewing patterns are very specific, they also allow for great creative choice and expression. Fabric, trim, and notions give ample opportunity for personal style to be highlighted. And making something from scratch allows a young sewer to copy current fashion trends that could be financially out of reach. Thrift. With basic sewing skills, garments and other items can be mended, amended, or re-purposed to be used as fashionable, functional garments with low expenditure. (Think thrift-store, attic treasures, etc.)

- Sense of accomplishment. Successfully sewing a garment or other useful item is a measurable accomplishment and great builder of confidence. Sewing teaches initiative, industry and innovation.

For more information on 4-H sewing clubs or the 4-H Fashion Revue, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Taking the stress out of annual Spring cleaning

Throw open those doors and windows - there is no better cure for months of winter than some fresh spring air.

But with spring, comes spring cleaning. And if the thought of pulling out mops, buckets and brooms brings on more stress than serenity, remember that a few tricks and some great tunes can make cleaning easier and perhaps even fun.

Set the Mood

There are work playlists, workout playlists - why not a cleaning playlist? Put together some of your favorite, preferably upbeat tunes to motivate you while you're working and keep that music playing when you're moving from room to room.

Give your nose some sensory motivation too. Spray a fresh clean scent to remind you of what's to come when the work is done.

Simplify

The soups, stews and heavy cooking of winter earn kitchen appliances everywhere a little tender loving care. While the task of cleaning accumulated splatters and stuck-on food residue from of heavy winter cooking can sound overwhelming, there are cleansers that can make the sprucing process a lot less labor-intensive.

You can clear the cutter of your cabinet by opting for a cleanser that works on a variety of surfaces and appliances. For example, Affresh kitchen and appliance cleaner and Stainless steel cleaner can be used on refrigerators, microwaves and counter-tops, and won't be too abrasive on finishes. And unlike ammonia or bleach-based cleansers, you can simply spray and wipe down without rinsing.

Renew the Refrigerator

It's easier to clean the fridge with less in it, so prior to starting, throw out what's old, pull out what stays and roll up your sleeves.

Clean door gaskets, racks and drawers with warm water and mild dish detergent. Don't forget to clean underneath the refrigerator and the vent of the appliance. Proper air flow provides better performance and optimum efficiency.

Once it's all sparkly clean, admire your handiwork. Then put your food back inside before it spoils.

Maintain

The dishwasher cleans dishes. What cleans the dishwasher? Don't stress! Cleaning the dishwasher may be one of the easiest tasks on your checklist. Just run a normal wash cycle and add an easy-to-use tablet, such as a fresh dishwasher cleaner, to the bottom of the tub to help clean and remove residue.

Likewise, you can clean your washing machine by running a normal cycle with hot water and a washer cleaner tablet. A formulated tablet designed to penetrate, dissolve and help remove odor-causing residue from the inside of the machine will give your washer and your clothes a fresh scent.

Don't forget to check washer and dryer drains and pipes for blockages -- such as lint or the infamous missing sock -- to improve optimum water and air flow. Clean the dryer's outside exhaust to help shorten drying time and decrease energy use.

For more helpful cleaning tips, visit www.affresh.com. You'll be out enjoying the spring weather in no time.

MANAGEMENT TRAINEE

Job Description: Management Trainee for newspapers serving several regions in the Midwest

Do you love the media business? The Delphos Herald, Inc. is looking for several entry-level management trainees. The right candidate will learn all they need to know to run a community newspaper publishing operation. We are seeking savvy, hard-working self-starters with strong online computer skills, sales aptitude, excellent written and verbal communications skills, and good spelling ability. The right candidate must have great relationship skills and, above all, the competitive drive to win.

Starting salary is $24,000. Our average management trainee has doubled starting pay within a few years. The Delphos Herald, Inc. has locations in seven states and we need trainees to move into management positions at the locations in those states after an 18-month training period.

We offer an excellent compensation/benefits package, which includes most costs associated with relocating to our communities. This job is challenging and, while not for everyone, provides an opportunity to start a great career in the fast-changing media industry.

To apply, email rgeary@delphosherald.com. Please send a letter describing yourself and your accomplishments. Include details of experience from selling ads for your high school or college newspaper to being an officer of a club, scholastic honors earned or winning a cookie sales contest. Our screening process will include: aptitude tests and background checks, including credit history.
